

JOBLINE

van * guard
van * guard (van 'gard') n. the leading position or the people who are foremost in a movement, field or cultural trend

As a multi-specialty physician group and affiliate of the Harvard Medical School, it is our employees that make our vision possible. Harvard Vanguard Medical Associates recognizes and values the unique skills and perspectives of our diverse workforce. We are currently looking for:

Job Title	Division	Location	Job Type	Job Grade	Schedule
Mammography Tech I	Radiology	Kenmore Square - Boston, MA	Per Diem	N5T	Sundays, 9:00am-3:30pm (future expansion to 8hr. shift)
Nuclear Medicine Technologist	Radiology	Kenmore Square - Boston, MA	Per Diem	N5T	Per Diem
Radiology Assistant (SEIU)	Radiology	Kenmore Square - Boston, MA	Part Time	19	Saturday and Sunday ,8:00am-4:30pm
Sonographer	Radiology	Kenmore Square - Boston, MA	Per Diem	N5T	M-F, 7:30am-4:00pm/ occasional weekends
Sonographer	Radiology	Weymouth, MA	Part Time	N5T	Tuesdays 8am-4:30pm

If you are interested in these or other positions we have open, please apply online to www.harvardvanguard.org/jobs or you can email Brenda_Thompson@vmed.org with your inquiry.

Please see www.harvardvanguard.org/jobs for these and other employment opportunities.

Harvard
Vanguard
Medical Associates

MSRT SEMINARS

On Feb 28th, 2009 the MSRT hosted its 3rd Annual 1/2 day seminar at Newton Wellesley Hospital offering four CEU credits. Sixty-five technologists from Boston, Cape Cod and the surrounding area attended the seminar. Susan Fallon, Breast Surgical Sales Specialist from Hologic, Inc. presented a lecture on Partial Breast Irradiation. Rich Guarino, Radiology Director at Lahey Clinic, presented the History of Radiation Protection. Ruth Mason, speech pathologists from Newton Wellesley Hospital, presented Modified Barium Swallow: Who Why and What? The final lecture of the day was Understanding Celiac Disease presented by Dr. Frank Scholz from Lahey Clinic. The event was a huge success! Thank you Linda Doucette for organizing the event!